

Ms. Cupp 5th Grade Week of December 4, 2017

Children following God in Faith, Respect, Knowledge, and Service

This Week's Events

I hope your Advent is off to a blessed start! We will be reading from the Old and New Testament in class to prepare for Christmas!

Some students had trouble accessing Google Docs over the weekend. Tonight I will be sending home some "e homework" to see what can be accessed at home and what cannot. This will give me ideas for future e-learning days.

Our Reading story this week is about King George's perspective on the Revolutionary War. I think the students will find it funny and will be interesting to think about perspectives! We are also working on pronouns this week!

This newsletter contains one (intentional) error. Students who find it by Tuesday will "win" a pair of gloves to donate for the Mitten Mass.

Try to get extra rest and relaxation on evenings before NWEA testing!

December's virtue is Purity.
